To know more you need... NetE-nable!

NetE-nable is a web publishing add-on to our proven success tool, AutoData ExpertScan. It is now possible to publish personalized forms and surveys, not only on plain paper but also on the Internet.

ExpertScan has always allowed you to design your own surveys and other forms. After you printed and scanned them, ExpertScan automatically generated reports and allowed you to customize them with various tabulation rules. With NetE-nable, you can do all of this plus take advantage of the information highway known as the Internet. While it used to take a couple of weeks or more to gather data from 100 surveys, it can now take only a couple of hours (98% of which time will be spent waiting for your participants to fill out your form online). But the best part about it is that you can still use paper forms simultaneously with the web forms, maximizing your response rate and merging all the data in the reports.

NetE-nable Key Features

- NetE-nable provides a more convenient way for respondents to tell you about your company or organization, in ways they might not if provided with only paper forms.
- Creating an online survey using NetE-nable is easier for you, and completing it is straightforward for your customers.
- ExpertScan imports this timely, actionable data into an Access database and creates built-in histogram, trend and comment reports for you.
- No additional hardware needed.
- Paper and Web form data populates the same database!
